Subject: COARM - CODE OF CONDUCT ON ARMS EXPORTS

With reference to Article 8 of the operative provisions of the Code of Conduct for arms exports, Austria is submitting its national report (Annex) to the partners.

Report on the Export of Arms by the Republic of Austria for the year 2000, pursuant to paragraph 8 of the operative provisions of the EU code of Conduct for Arms Exports

1. The report includes all licences issued by the Federal Ministry for Economic Affairs (MEA) for the export of armaments other than "war material" as defined in the war material regulation decreed by the Austrian Government on 22 November 1977, Federal Law Gazette No. 624/77 and all licenses granted by the Federal Ministry of Interior (MOI) for "war material" as defined above.

According to the Federal Act on the Export, Import and Transit of War Material of 18 October 1977, Federal Law Gazette No. 540/1977 as amended (WMA77), the Ministry of Interior has to decide on requests for licenses to export war material in agreement with the Ministry for Foreign Affairs and the Ministry of Defence, after consulting with the Federal Chancellery. The decision has to be taken without undue delay, at the latest six months after receipt of the request (cf. ? 73 al.1 of the General Act on Administrative Procedure, Federal Law Gazette No. 51/1991).

The Foreign Trade Act of 9 March 1995, Federal Law Gazette No. 172/1995, as amended (FTA95), stipulates in its ? 9, al. 4, that the Federal Ministry for Economic Affairs as licensing authority for weapons other than war material has to decide upon requests for licences to export weapons within 3 weeks after their receipt.

In the government program of February 2000, the People's Party and the Freedom Party had agreed their intention to submit to parliament during the year 2000 a draft containing modifications of the Federal Act on the Export, Import and

VIE0191.TXT

Transit of War Material of 18 October 1977.

After consultations involving the above mentioned ministries, the Federal Minister of Interior on 19 December 2000 submitted a draft on modification of the War Material Act" to the Council of Ministers, requesting that the draft be submitted to parliament to act thereupon as provided in the constitution; no action was however taken.

The draft provided for a reduction in the number of ministries involved by deleting the reference to the Federal Chancellery. In addition, for the first time a provision on brokering of war material has been included in the draft. Furthermore, the operative paragraphs of the "EU Code of Conduct on Arms Transfers" of 8 June 1998 were to be incorporated into the WMA, making it possible for Austria to circulate denials, take part in the consultation process, to inform all partners of Austrian undercuts and provide them with the required data on Austrian arms exports.

The amendments to the WMA were approved by the Council of Ministers on 10 January 2001 and forwarded to Parliament. They passed the Lower House of the Austrian Parliament on 10 May 2001 and the Upper House on 23 May 2001 and became law on 1 July 2001. The law was promulgated in the Legal Gazette I Nr. 57/2001 of 12 June 2001.

It should be noted that under Austrian law applicable during the year 2000 the following authorities issued licences for the export of weapons or war material:

a) Federal Ministry for Interior (MOI)

Federal Act on the Export, Import and Transit of War Material of 18 October 1977, Federal Law Gazette No. 540/1977 as amended (WMA77).

? 3 stipulates that a licence to export war material can be granted if

- it does not contravene obligations under international law or foreign policy interests of Austria, special consideration to be given to her permanent neutrality
- the export or transit is not to a region, where an armed conflict is taking place, is expected to break out or where there are dangerous tensions
- there is no danger that the material will be used to suppress human rights in the country of final destination, given a record of severe and reiterated human rights violations
- embargoes decided upon by the UN Security Council are taken into account, due consideration being given to the permanent neutrality of Austria
- it does not contravene public security or military considerations
- there are no other comparable important objections

VIE0191.TXT

Under ? 3a of WMA77, the "Foreign Affairs Council" - which is not a parliamentary committee, but consists of the Federal Chancellor, the Vice Chancellor, the Federal Minister for Foreign Affairs, other members of Government whose presence might be appropriate, Members of Parliament of political parties represented therein, the Secretary General for Foreign Affairs of the Federal Ministry for Foreign Affairs, and an observer from the Federal President's office - is informed in general terms by the Federal Government within the first six months of each year of the Austrian war material exports of the preceding year.

Chapter 4 II is a translation of the report submitted by the Federal Government to the abovementioned council for the year 2000.

The licenses were all for "war material" as defined in the war material regulation decreed by the Austrian Government on 22 November 1977, Federal Law Gazette No. 624/77.

In 2000, Mol approved a total of 267 (1999: 219; 1998: 292) individual applications for final exports of weapons (licenses for temporary exports for fairs and exhibitions or for presentation purposes are not included). The figure does not include applications withdrawn in the course of the licensing procedure by the applicant due to their low chances of success.

For further details see chapter 4 II).

b) Federal Government (Council of Ministers)
WMA77, ? 5 (2)

Exports of war material by the Minister of Defence (Army), the Minister of Interior (Police), the Minister of Justice (Prison Guards) and the Minister of Finance (Customs Police) are subject to the approval of the Federal Government.

This provision in practice concerns only exports by the Minister of Defence of national army holdings, which are exported to the manufacturer for repair, maintenance, modification or training and are then re-imported to Austria. A second case concerns participation of Austrian soldiers in military sports events, where rifles have to be carried. As these exports and subsequent imports are only of a temporary nature and do not constitute commercial transactions, they are not considered to be subject of reporting under op. para 8 of the EU Code of Conduct on Arms Transfers.

c) Federal Ministry for Economic Affairs (MEA)
Under the Foreign Trade Act of 9 March 1995, Federal Law Gazette No. 172/1995 as amended (FTA95), the Federal Ministry for Economic Affairs is the licensing authority for weapons other than war material.

According to ? 8, a license has to be refused, if it would violate international obligations. Due consideration has to be given to avoid a danger for world peace and international security, avoidance of a danger for Austria's security, avoidance of a danger of a serious disturbance of Austria's foreign relations or avoidance of exports to areas of armed conflict.

2) Licenses were granted by the MEA on the basis of the relevant provisions of the FTA95 and by the MOI on the basis of the relevant provisions of the WMA77. Individual applications were assessed and decided by the criteria of ? 8 FTA95 and ? 3 WMA77 respectively.

The Eight Criteria from the Luxembourg European Council 1991 and the Lisbon European Council 1992, as well as, since its adoption, the EU Code of Conduct for Arms Exports are referred to for further guidance. It should be noted, that the latter, having no legal force, cannot be referred to when refusing licenses, as all denials issued by the Ministry for Economic Affairs and the Ministry of Interior can be appealed within 6 weeks of receipt by the applicant with the High Administrative Court, according to the Court's regulations. The Court is ruling on the basis of legally binding instruments. This situation has however changed as of 1 July 2001.

3) The licenses granted by the MEA were all for goods listed in the amunitions list" of the Wassenaar Arrangement and Positions 1 to 22 of the common indicative list agreed by COARM, except for licenses for export of war material granted by the MOI under the WMA77.

4) I) Ministry of Economic Affairs (MEA)

a) In 2000 a total of 1542 (1999: 1294; 1998:1313) individual applications for final exports of weapons were approved by the MEA (licenses for temporary exports for fairs and exhibitions or for presentation purposes are not included). The total value of these applications amounted to 562,545.511 (1999: 395,453.327 EUR). 34 applications (1999: 30) were withdrawn by the applicants.

b) During 2000 10 (1999: 15) applications for weapons exports were refused, concerning 10 (1999: 6) countries, their total value being equal to 614.000 EUR. (1999: 635.000 EUR). Value of licences refused corresponds to 0,2 (1999: 1,25%) of the value of licences granted. This figure does not include applications withdrawn in the course of the licensing procedure by the applicant due to their low chances of success. The small number of formally refused applications is due to the fact that prior to submitting an application, many applicants make informal, often oral, enquiries to assess the chances of their application being granted. In most cases, where the initial inquiry is negative, no formal application is made thereafter.
